

"DICK" LANG GIVEN VERDICT OF $50.

A jury which late Thursday afternoon heard testimony in the action of Richard Lang, who formerly conducted the Broadway Garage at 81 Broadway, against William Van Bramer, Jr., a fish and oyster dealer, to recover $104 declared to be due under a contract for the rebuilding of an automobile which had undergone a fire test, handed in a verdict in favor of Mr. Snyder for $50 for the plaintiff.

M. O. Auchmoody, attorney for the defendant, moved that the verdict be set aside as being contrary to law and against the evidence. The motion was denied and the usual stay of execution was granted. The Lang-Van Bramer action was the last suit tried at the October-November term of court, which began on the 18th ult. and has been in session continuously since, except on Saturdays and election day. The jury retired about 7 o'clock Thursday evening and the members were taken to the Stuyvesant Hotel for supper. They deliberated on the testimony in the suit for about an hour. Newton H. Fessenden, with Joseph M. Fowler of counsel, conducted the case for the plaintiff.

He is represented by D. G. Atkins.

In Recorder's Court.

William McCormack, a hobo, who had no home and who wanted, one furnished him for the winter by receiving a term in the county jail, was fined this morning when he was arraigned in recorder's court before Recorder Andrew Lang when the recorder sentenced him to three months in the pen at Albany and suspended sentence providing he got out of town in an hour. William would have welcomed a three months sentence in the county jail, but there was nothing attractive to him about the pen and he lost no time in leaving town. William was arraigned at the union railroad station. He was warned once by the officer to desist but he was determined to be arrested and did not lead the warning.

TWO LOCAL CASES ARGUED IN ALBANY

Two important Ulster county cases were argued before the appellate division of the supreme court at Albany on Thursday.

One of the cases argued was that of Thomas Snyder, respondent, against Charles P. Dickinson, appellant. The case was tried in the supreme court in this city and resulted in a verdict in favor of Mr. Snyder for $125. The action was brought to recover damages for cutting trees on Mr. Snyder's farm in the town of Rosendale. Mr. Dickinson is the owner of the Hook Falls Power Company and furnishes electric power to the Kingston Gas & Electric Company. The wires pass through Mr. Snyder's property, part of the farm land through which they pass being heavily timbered. A right to erect poles was secured from Mr. Snyder on payment of $50 and a strip twenty feet wide was denuded of trees. Mr. Snyder gave the company a right to trim trees on either side of the wires so that they would not interfere with the operation of the power line. In 1909 the strip was widened to fifty feet and later Mr. Dickinson served notice on Mr. Snyder that it would be necessary to clear away the trees to a greater distance because limbs blown down during storms fell on the wires. Accordingly, Mr. Dickinson's employees cut down 225 trees, widening the cleared space to 150 feet, and Mr. Snyder brought suit to recover damages for unlawful cutting. The jury gave him a verdict of $125 and Mr. Dickinson appealed. The appeal was argued by District Attorney Cunningham, counsel for Mr. Dickinson, and by Howard Chipp, counsel for Mr. Snyder.

Yale Quarry Case Argued.

The other case argued before the appellate division involves the Yale quarry property, known as parcel No. 7, from which stone was taken for the construction of the Ashokan dam. The present proceeding was brought by Joseph T. Mulligan, a taxpayer, against the Board of Water Supply of the City of New York, and Jerome H. Buck. Mr. Mulligan brought the action as a taxpayer to restrain the Board of Water Supply and other officials with taking further proceedings in regard to the parcel. There has been a large amount of litigation over this parcel and there have been several appeals over the various proceedings taken. In the present suit Mr. Mulligan claims that the Board of Water Supply and other officials are exceeding their authority in proceeding with the condemnation of the parcel and the payment of any award therefor, because it was not needed or required for water supply purpose, but was acquired instead for the stone quarry. It is also contended by Mr. Mulligan that no authority had been obtained from the State Water Supply Commission for acquiring the parcel. On behalf of the Board of Water Supply it is claimed that ample authority was obtained from the State Water Supply Commission and that a large part of the parcel is actually flooded by the water of the Ashokan reservoir. The case was heard by Judge Hasbrouck, who sustained a demurrer interposed by the Board of Water Supply. From his order, an appeal was taken by Mr. Mulligan, the owner of the parcel and one of the defendants. The case was argued before the Appellate Division by R. Dulaney Whiting for the plaintiff-appellant and by William McM. Spear for the Board of Water Supply.

"STUNG" HE CLAIMS, BY REBUILT AUTO

Van Bramer Has One "Lemon" After Another—Lang Sues Him on Contract—Firstwhile Close Friend, Go to Court With Their Differences—Counter-Claim for Fish.

Back of the suit of Richard F. Lang against William Van Bramer, Jr., "to recover on a contract," the last action tried at the October-November term of supreme court, is the tale of an automobile which passed through a fire and was rebuilt. Whether it would run after having been rebuilt was a question for the jury to decide.

Lang and Van Bramer used to be very good friends. Lang conducted the Broadway Garage at 81 Broadway, returning about the first of March last. Van Bramer is a dealer in fish and oysters in Rondout. Disputes over bills and the condition of the automobile figuring in the case ended the friendship between Lang and Van Bramer. The former sued for $104, while the latter contended that plaintiff had been overpaid.

A jury to hear the action was drawn at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and the testimony was concluded by 6, when the attorneys summed up. Justice Hasbrouck delivered his charge, the jury retired and the trial of cases was ended for the term. Newton H. Fessenden, with Joseph M. Fowler of counsel, appeared for the plaintiff, and M. O. Auchmoody represented the defendant.

Lang testified that about a year ago there was a chassis of a burned Cadillac car in his garage. It did not belong to him. Van Bramer wanted to buy it and Lang advised him against doing this. He told his erstwhile friend that to rebuild the machine would cost $250. Van Bramer nevertheless bought the chassis and agreed to pay for the new parts needed, which cost $121, and to pay Lang for his work $100, a total of $221. Lang said the defendant has paid only $117, leaving $104 due. The car was rebuilt thoroughly and Van Bramer was taken on a "test" run and said the machine was O. K. or words to that effect.

Cross-examined, Lang said he had made eight trips to New York city to obtain parts, such as a body, magento, top bearings for wheel, etc. He said that Van Bramer insisted that he go and that he gave him $5 each time for railroad fare and expenses.

Flat Contradiction by Van Bramer.

The defendant contradicted flatly the testimony of the plaintiff. He said that previously he had had a car which was a "lemon" and he had made up his mind to buy a brand new machine. But Lang urged to buy the chassis of the burned car and have it rebuilt. Lang called at his fish and oyster market time and again to persuade him and finally he yielded (unlucky hour). The defense contended that $160 or $170 had been paid Lang for new parts and for his work and that Lang did not complete the job, as agreed. In fact, it was said Lang had been paid too much and the car would not run. Van Bramer testified that he has got rid of the machine. He said he never went for a run—that is, for a very long distance—without having to be towed home.

Inquiry was made about an accident he was in and he said he ditched his car near New Paltz to avoid running into a wagon on which there were children.

The Court—"Did you have a chauffeur?"

Van Bramer—"No, Sir; I ran the car myself." Witness said that he, not Lang, bought most of the new parts at the former Guy Vaughan plant. Items in Lang's bill were attacked. Defendant said he gave Lang $75 to buy a body in New York and when the body arrived, after a delay of six weeks, and was put on the machine "it looked like a peanut on top of a man's hat." In other words, it was not enough. A cabinet-maker employed by the defendant was engaged "to fit out the space in the rear." The trial referred to said Van Bramer, was the only one he authorized Lang to make to New York.

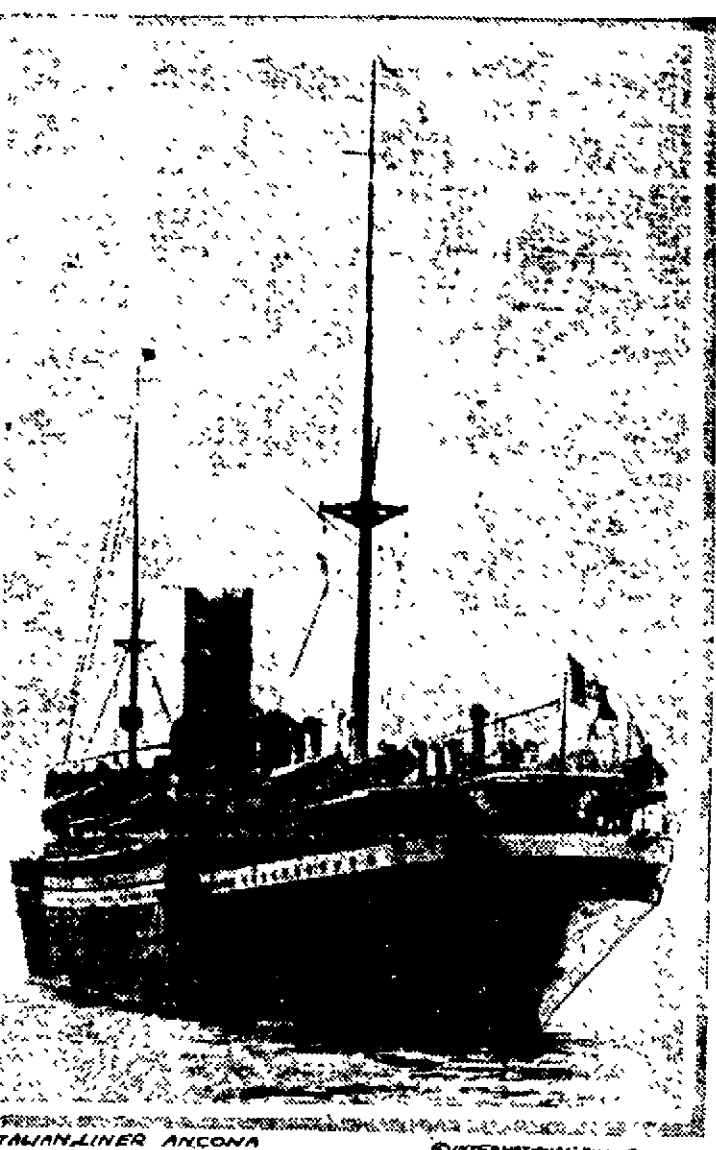

Questions by attorneys and replies by witnesses abounded in references to transmissions, clutches, differentials, coils, batteries, brake linings, magnetos, spark plugs, mudguards and other things which motorists know about. His Honor showed a familiarity with transmissions and asked regarding a shifting fork which was said to have been defective.

Frank Mooney Testifies.

Frank Mooney, called by the defense, said he has been in the automobile business for 11 years and succeeded Lang in charge of the Broadway garage on March 1. He is owner of the building. Mr. Mooney was not permitted to say why Lang retired. He said Van Bramer's car was in the garage at the time and it "was a kind of mistle affair." For one thing, it "had no spark controller." The fish dealer asked whether the car was worth fixing up and Mooney testified he replied no. Nevertheless he fixed it up at odd times between April and May last. Ralph Fredericks, a youth who helped Lang rebuild the car and now is in the employ of Mooney, said when Lang quit business the Van Bramer machine's motor, transmissions and differential seemed all right, but minor things remained to be done.

ITALIAN LINER ANCONA.

ITALIAN LINER TORPEDOED BY SUBMARINE.

The picture shows the Ancona as she sailed out of New York harbor on her last voyage to Italy. On her return trip from Naples to New York she was torpedoed, shelled and sunk by a large submarine flying the Austrian flag. Between twenty and thirty Americans are believed to have been aboard. One report says that 271 perished when the ship went down and that 371 were saved. Officials at Washington are fearing a recurrence of the "Lusitania" complication resulting from the attack on the steamer and its sinking with loss of life.

ANCONA DISASTER REPORTS CONFLICT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Fragmentary and conflicting reports are all that are as yet being received by the state department telling of the Ancona tragedy. It is expected, however, that within 24 hours a complete report will reach here from consular officers in Tunis, who are reported by Ambassador Page in Rome to be in touch with a number of the survivors. The state department still is without official details of how many Americans, if any, lost their lives, and its fragmentary reports are coming in hours after their substance has been received over the press association wires.

Emphatic denial was made by Secretary Lansing today of reports that he had arrived at any conclusion as to responsibility. On the contrary he made it very convincing that there has not been enough information compiled by the department to clear up a single one of the points in dispute. The department has made it very plain to the embassy in Rome that it is very anxious to have all the available facts without delay. But it is realized that because of the difficulties in the way of communication between Rome and the various points where the Ancona's survivors were landed much time must elapse before a connected story can be secured.

The direct conflict between the story told by Captain Massardo, commander of the Ancona, who declares that he stopped his vessel as soon as the first shot was fired, and passengers who insist that the captain crowded on all steam in trying to escape will prove a difficult knot for the department to unravel. It is expected, however, that the compelling force in all this government's investigations was the stories that are told by the American citizens who survived the disaster. Their affidavits alone, officials say, will determine what action this government can take.

WANTED HIM SCARED.

Abused Lady Wanted Police to Just Frighten Her Husband.

Another case of a woman wanting to use the police for the purpose of scaring her husband, whom she did not want arrested, was brought to the attention of Recorder Andrew Lang this morning when a woman came panting into the court room and explained her lack of breath by saying that she was in a hurry to see the recorder and tell him her matrimonial troubles and tribulations. According to her story her husband persists in abusing her and when he comes home he grasps her by the arm and hurries her across the room and throws any furniture that is loose and comes handy at her. She said she really feared for her life sometimes and she wanted the recorder to send a policeman around to the house and give her husband a good scare. After listening to her story Recorder Lang said that he would issue a warrant for her husband's arrest if she wanted him to and if he was found guilty he would send him to jail. The woman said that she did not care to have her husband arrested but only wanted to have him scared. She was advised to go home and think the matter over and if she wished a warrant for the husband's arrest to appear in court Saturday.

MEIGS TO DELIVER ENLARGED PHOTOS IN UPTOWN CHURCHES

Will Fulfill Contracts of Himself and Companion Wilson, Accused of Forgery, So Soon as He is Released—Girls Sent Home Thursday Evening.

Clarence A. Meigs, a young man who was taken into custody as a suspicious character late Tuesday afternoon when Frederick W. Wilson was arrested on a Jacksonville, Fla., charge of having forged a check for $200, has communicated with relatives and friends and hopes to obtain his release from the county jail within a few days. He was committed by Recorder Lang for 20 days on Wednesday morning in default of paying a fine of $20.

Meigs in the presence of his companion Wilson and Deputy Sheriff Hornbeck promised to a representative of The Freeman on Thursday evening that so soon as he is released he will proceed to carry out the contracts for the enlargement of photographs which he and Wilson made with various persons in town in the ten days they solicited orders here.

It was said that a total of 38 orders were obtained and they were in two "batches." In the first instance 23 orders for the enlargement of photographs were taken and the photos belonging to the persons giving the orders were sent away. The work has been done and the enlarged photographs have been received in Kingston, being now in an express office, ready for delivery to patrons. In the second instance 15 orders were taken and the photographs obtained and these had not yet been sent away for enlargement when Sergeant Murray, of the police force, Deputy Sheriff Cohen and Detective Lynch, of the Burns agency, descended upon Wilson and Meigs, who were doing business under the name of "The Rembrandt Art Institute of Chicago, Ill.," at the Mott rooming house at 177 Wall street and escorted them to jail.

Wilson has been held to await extradition papers from Florida. The tradition of his bail, which, of course, he could not furnish, was fixed at $3,000 by Recorder Lang. So far as known, there is no direct charge against Meigs, but the authorities deemed it advisable to hold him for a time where they could have him if it should be found he was wanted.

Freeman representative indicated his readiness and desire to look after and close up the business deals which he and Wilson effected with Kingston persons. The enlarged photographs which have arrived will be delivered, and the photographs which have not yet been sent away will be returned. It is understood that their owners, Meigs and Wilson, are confident that he would get out of jail before his 20 days are up but he emphasized that he had no intention to flee from Kingston until the photograph tangle is straightened out.

Two Girls Return Home.

Meigs and Wilson are understood to have been accompanied from Syracuse to Kingston by two young women. Their presence in police court when the prisoners were arraigned before Recorder Lang on Wednesday morning and their visit to the court house in the afternoon to see the young men have been detailed in The Freeman. Apparently with the arrest of Wilson and Meigs the girls became "homeless" or at least they were penniless. Their plight came to the knowledge of officials at the court house, who on Wednesday evening made up a little collection to buy the girls their supper. The girls had been "hanging around" in the vicinity of the court house and were warned that this would not do.

On Thursday Under Sheriff Hornbeck and Jailor Jocelyn constituted themselves a committee to raise sufficient funds to send the maidens, who are young and comely and dressed attractively though modestly, to their home, which they said was in Syracuse. Contributions to the fund were made by attaches of the court house, lawyers, business men and others and the girls were placed in the custody of Miss Bruyn, county agent for juvenile dependents, who took them to the West Shore station purchased tickets and delivered the pasteboards to the conductor on the 5:15 West Shore train Thursday evening, which the girls boarded. They gave their names as Mae Burke and Ivah Dancy and their ages as 18 and 19 years. They said they met the young men in Syracuse shortly before the latter were about to leave for this city. Miss Dancy is well educated, having taken a course in a business college.

The meetings will be held in St. James' Methodist Episcopal Church and the Fair Street Reformed Church. Ashokan A. A.'s Opening.

On Saturday night, November 6, the Ashokan A. A. opened its season with a dance and two games of basketball, which were attended by a large crowd. The first was a very close and exciting game between the Ashokan Reserves and the Holy Cross team of Kingston, the final score being 11 to 12 in favor of the Holy Cross boys. Following this game the Ashokan A. A. met the Eagles of Kingston and at half time things looked rather bad for our boys, as the score was 7 to 2 against them. Starting the second half the A. A. boys commenced to show the results of their faithful coaching, and soon overcame their opponent's lead. During this half the Eagles succeeded in getting but one foul point, while our boys rolled up nine points, making the total score 11 to 8, and then contented themselves for the last five minutes with practicing pass work. The manager of the A. A. wishes to announce that he is ready to receive challenges and arrange games with any opposing teams who care to meet either the Ashokan Reserves or the A. A.

A great deal of business was transacted and among other things to come forth is a supper to be held on December 10. Their fair was discussed and they will hold that after the holidays. The Inside of the Hotel

Is the part that counts with the guest. The architect doesn't make a hotel, he only designs it. The builder doesn't make a hotel, he only builds it.

Don't select your stopping place from the outside. Look behind the front wall and see what is back of it.

The success of the Hotel Martinique is the personality back of it, which shows in the lobby, at the desk, in the restaurants and in the rooms.

The telephone attendants, the mail clerks, the room maids, even the bellboys reflect the personality back of the "House of Taylor." We don't preach prices only. We have pleasant, homelike rooms from $1.50 up.

In one and all you will find reflected the careful and insistent idea of guest-service that dominates every moment of your stay.

Located in the Heart of Things, only a golf stroke from the Pennsylvania Depot. On Broadway's shopping centre. The Martinique is the logical New York home for those on a business or pleasure bent.

RING ATTACKS SEAMEN'S LAW

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 12.—Welding Ring, chairman of the committee on foreign commerce and revenue laws of the New York Chamber of Commerce, attacked strongly the La Follette Seamen's law and President Wilson's project for government owned lines of steamers in a speech here today before the meeting of the Academy of Political Science in the city of New York.

He also made several suggestions as to ways the American flag may be restored to the seas, where, in the second decade of the last century, he said it flew over more tonnage than the emblem of any other nation.

Mr. Ring said, in part:

"With the advent of the war in Europe there was a golden opportunity for the United States to regain its former proud position on the sea. Congress in an unusual outburst of wisdom, passed a law that went into effect August, 1914, and the president promptly signed it. Under that law steamers and ships flying the flags of other nations could be purchased by Americans and those already owned by Americans but under other colors could be transferred to United States registry, without becoming subject to our navigation laws. The effect of this law was almost magical, and in a comparatively brief period 135 steamers were brought under the Stars and Stripes. But these favorable conditions were not to continue, for in February of the present year, congress in its great wisdom, passed the so-called La Follette Seamen's bill, and that, too, was signed by the president.

"With this message, a chill ran over our shipping, merchants, and owners of a large merchant marine vanished quicker than they had been created. Since its passage, eight months ago, only about forty craft of all kinds have sought our flag, while some of the earlier transfers are contemplating going back to their former colors. A more unfortunate law was never enacted by congress. The labor unions claim the authority of it, endorse all its provisions, and are demanding that it be enforced to the letter, and a recent circular issued by the authorities at Washington states that it will be enforced in every detail. But for once they have overshot their mark, and have killed the goose that was laying the golden eggs.

"What is the result to date of this unwise and unfortunate law? We have only to look at our Pacific ocean trade that is given, with the exception of the coastwise trade, all carried under foreign flags. The splendid steamers of the Pacific Mail Company have been sold, and transferred to service on the Atlantic. The magnificent 'Minnesota' of the Great Northern Line has made her last trip across the Pacific and the steamers of the Robert Dollar Line have sought Vancouver as a harbor of refuge, under the British flag.

"Is it any wonder that the Yankees of the Orient, the Japanese, those in their hands and should with delight when they learned of the passage and signing of the Seamen's law, for as they would not be subject to that law, the carrying trade of the Pacific dropped into their arms, without even the asking for it.

"But, as though the Seamen's law was not enough, merchant ship owners are unopposed by government ownership and operation. Merchants are told that as they do not buy or build more ships under present conditions, that the government will step in and expend a large amount in building or purchase. As is well known all the ship yards in the United States are full of orders, and cannot take on more for delivery in less than eighteen months or two years. Foreign shipping is selling at almost double the prices of a year ago and foreign governments are very reluctant to allow any of their tonnage to pass from their control. If the government should buy foreign steamers it would not add anything to the carrying capacity of the world, for it would merely be the transfer from one flag to another.

"Is anyone ready to admit that the government can operate steamships as economically as private merchants or corporations? But apparently, that is no obstacle in the way of government ownership at high cost and operation under labor union conditions.

"Are there any means or methods by which our shipping can be restored and our flag become known again throughout the world? There are many who believe it is possible and the following are some details as to what is necessary:

"First—The creation of a shipping board patterned largely after the British board of trade, which has aided so materially in building up British shipping. This board should be composed of men familiar with all shipping questions, of broad knowledge and actual experience, and they should be free from the restrictions of governmental interference, except so far as the laws of safety in construction and operation require. They should have the power to revise and reconstruct our navigation laws, making them more nearly conform to those of successful shipowning nations, and while making them cover every detail of safety broadening and liberalizing their scope so that they will be less onerous, and will give greater freedom to owners.

"Second—A prompt suspension of the Seamen's law or better still, its repeal and if necessary the enactment of a new law avoiding the mistakes of the present one.

"Third—The menace of government ownership should cease and this dark cloud of government competition be driven from the horizon. What merchant or capitalist would be willing to invest in ships, when he felt that any day the government would become his competitor and carry on the trade irrespective of whether it was profitable or not. The merchant would have to bear his own losses, while the government would charge them to profit and loss and the people would pay them. Is that a competition that is fair or desirable.

"Fourth—Proper legislation should be enacted so that advances made by bankers and banks shall be an absolute lien on the ship, with no possibility of anything piecing such lien. England has well defined and settled laws, that operate so successfully, their banks consider loans on shipping as a most desirable form of investment, and it has been a wonderful aid in building up their merchant marine."

William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, will speak at the dinner of the academy this evening. Senators John W. Weeks of Massachusetts and Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida will also make addresses. The sessions will continue tomorrow.

Mr. C. C. Schmitt's subject for his talk to the junior congregation on Sunday morning was Spiritual Telegraphy. He illustrated his talk by the drawing of telegraph wires. He first asked who invented the telegraph. Then he told of the first message sent over the wire. Morse, the inventor, realized that God was working through him when he invented the telegraph and the first message he sent was "What Wonders God Hath Wrought." The message which the Rev. Schmitt mentioned was first, "I Love Those That Love Me." This message, he said, God sent to every little boy and girl. Second message, "Lovest Thou Me?" This question God asks of every one of us. Can every one answer in the words of the third message, "Thou Knowest That I Love Thee?" The fourth message is a command of God to all those who love Him: "If ye Love Me Keep My Commandments." Each one of these four messages God sends to every boy and girl. He wishes them all to give their hearts to Him. The subject of his talk to the senior congregation was "God's Striving With Man." His text was taken from Genesis 3:3. And the Lord said "My spirit shall not always strive with man, for that he also is flesh yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years." He took up his subject under three heads: First, by awakening the conscience in connection with this he spoke of the character of Pharaoh and Pilate; second, by showing the folly and vanity of earthly pleasures. Solomon was mentioned in connection with this type; third, by the impression of heavenly things.

She Didn't Dance.

In 1736 a gentleman living in Hampshire, England, named Samuel Baldwin, died after a rather stormy and most unhappy married life. In his will he directed that all his vast estate be given his wife on condition that she should dance upon his grave from time to time. As the will further instructed that his remains should be taken by boat to the Needles and from there cast into the sea, this, of course, prevented his widow from fulfilling the conditions of the will and thus lost her the property. He, however, had his revenge for the various trunks she had exhibited and for the remarks she often made that she would yet "dance upon his grave."

Careless Driving.

As motorists multiply in numbers it is evident that increasingly careful driving is called for. The driver who "hits her up" endangers not only his own safety, but the safety of other motorists. There are drivers who fail to slacken speed when they come to cross streets. There are drivers who dash around corners or across a boulevard at high speed. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that the really competent driver always has his car under control; that he always drives on the theory that every other driver may be careless or may lose his head. Caution marks the competent driver. Recklessness belongs only to the jay.—Kansas City Times.

MRS. CUMMINGS WINS AGAIN

The appellate division of the supreme court at Albany on Wednesday handed down a decision in the case of Mary Ella Cummings, respondent, against Matilda Eignor, appellant, which was tried before Judge Chester without a jury at the court house in this city in May, 1914.

Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. Eignor occupy adjoining lands which formerly formed part of a tract that was owned by their common ancestors, near the highway leading from Pine Hill to Big Indian.

Until 1913 both owners used a common road to reach the main highway. The Cummings property is farther away from the highway than the Eignor property, and the road from the Cummings house converged with the road from the Eignor house.

In 1913, Mrs. Eignor rebuilt the roadway leading from her home to the highway, and also built a bridge at a point where the road from the Cummings house crossed the creek. Mrs. Cummings connected her roadway with the Eignor roadway, claiming that her title to her property gave her a right of way over the route used by Mrs. Eignor.

Mrs. Eignor was displeased by the use of her new roadway and new bridge by her neighbor, and attempted to place barriers to prevent Mrs. Cummings from using them. A fence was built to shut off Mrs. Cummings' access to the roadway and bridge.

Mrs. Cummings thereupon obtained a temporary injunction restraining Mrs. Eignor from interfering with her use of the roadway and bridge, and began an action in which she sought to establish her right of way over the roadway claimed by Mrs. Eignor. The case was tried before Judge Chester without a jury on May 20, 1914, and in October Judge Chester rendered judgment in Mrs. Cummings' favor, granting a permanent injunction, awarding her six cents damages, besides the costs of the suit, which amounted to, nearly $200.

An appeal from Judge Chester's judgment was taken by Mrs. Eignor, and the case was argued sometime ago by Brinnier & Canfield, counsel for Mrs. Eignor, and Joseph M. Fowler, counsel for Mrs. Cummings. At various times Mrs. Cummings had offered to pay a part of the cost of constructing the bridge which had been erected by Mrs. Eignor and for maintaining the roadway. The appellate division decision does not disturb the trial court's finding in regard to Mrs. Cummings' title to the right of way, but it modifies the judgment by requiring her to pay Mrs. Eignor a just proportion of the cost of constructing the bridge over the creek and along the common right of way, taking into consideration the present condition value of the bridge. In case the parties cannot agree on the sum to be paid, that question is to be submitted to and determined by Judge Chester at special term. An appeal from the judgment is unanimously affirmed without costs in the appellate division to either party.

"Everywoman" Next Tuesday.

The dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," which is by far the most interesting production of recent years, will appear at the Kingston Opera House next Tuesday afternoon and evening. "Everywoman" is one of the latest productions offered by Henry W. Savage, who has brought out more successful theatrical productions than any other man in America. "Everywoman" defies the ordinary classification of the theatre. Strictly speaking, it is not opera, musical comedy or drama, but it partakes of the attractive features of all. It was suggested by the author, the late Walter Browne, by the ancient morality play, "Everyman," which was performed throughout America a few years ago by a band of English players, but there is not the slightest similarity because "Everyman" was gloomy and morbid, while "Everywoman" is a delicious satire on the frailties of women, carrying with it a message that is universal. The production as it stands represents an expenditure of over sixty thousand dollars. Over one hundred and fifty people are employed in the production which is undoubtedly the largest musical and dramatic organization ever toured.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Teetsel, who were guests in the place for a few days, have returned to their home in Schenectady, N. Y.

T. S. Lemox took a business trip to Kingston Tuesday. Charles Moore of Kingston called in the place recently.

Starting It Going

"How did I know THAT?" "Because some one told me, who had been told by some one else who read it somewhere." Thus one of the characters in a Broadway play illustrates the power of advertising. The fame of a good article never stops. Each satisfied customer is a salesman. But to get the first customer group of customers you must have them READ IT SOMEWHERE. Why not in the daily newspaper? That's where people are most likely to see it.

PETER H. TROY'S
NAME WITHDRAWN

Will Not Be a Candidate for Presidency of State Automobile Association—Found that Harmony Couldn't be Obtained.

At a meeting of the Poughkeepsie Automobile Club Thursday evening the name of Peter H. Troy was withdrawn as a possible candidate for president of the New York State Automobile Association, when it became evident that Mr. Troy's presidency could not bring about the harmony which it was at first hoped his candidacy would bring among the automobile clubs throughout the state. The action was taken by the club and the name of Mr. Troy, which had been urged as the next president of the club by Hudson Valley and up-state clubs will not go before the convention in Binghamton at their convention next week. Mr. Troy had been endorsed by the Ulster County Automobile Club and a number of the members intended going to Binghamton to aid in electing him.

Mr. Troy was first thought of as the president of the State Association at the state convention last fall. His name was proposed but he declined, saying that as president of the club which was acting as host, he could hardly accept the honor. Several of the large clubs withdrew from the State Association and Mr. Troy's name was again proposed early last spring with the hope that as president he could bring about harmony between all the clubs in the state. He declined then to be discussed as a candidate unless assured his election would bring all the clubs together again. So when it was seen that this object was impossible, the club withdrew his name.

The meeting Thursday evening was well attended and a nominating committee which will present nominations for the 1916 year at the annual meeting of the club on the evening of December 6, was selected. The committee is made up of Fred C. Hornbeck, chairman; Charles A. Brooks, Walter H. Bedell, Gilbert F. Foote and Irving G. Storm.

Another Improvement.

As is the motto of the concern: "Always at the front." Stock & Cordis are having placed in position on their second floor a very artistic and handsome grille division screen partitioning off a section of their show room as a music room, in which will be exhibited the Edison diamond disc phonograph, for which they are the agents in this city. When completed the improvement will be well worth inspecting, as it will make one of the most artistic music rooms in the city. The draperies and lighting fixtures are worthy of special mention, they being entirely new, and as the rule with this concern, when they start doing anything they never do things half way.

FIRST POPULAR SATURDAY NIGHT

The first of a series of Popular Saturday Nights will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday evening when two fast games of basketball will be staged. Admission will be free. Physical Director Godfrey has arranged a series of games to be played every Saturday evening during season. These Popular Saturday Nights proved very successful last season. The games slated for tomorrow night are between the Employed Boys' Five and the Alpine Five in the first game, and the second game is between a five from Trinity M. E. Church and a team from the First Presbyterian Church.
Wednesday evening the first games in the employed boys' basketball league were played at the association. Tonight the second game of the series will be played. The first games resulted as follows:
Team No. 1, Captain McArdie,
24; team No. 2, Captain McHugh, 10.
Team No. 3, Captain McCann, 15;
team No. 4, Captain Rhymer, 6.
Team No. 5, Captain Carpenter,
9; team No. 6, Captain Williams,
17.

Successful Supper.

The chicken pie supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer last evening was a grand success. For several days past a committee of ladies has been at work arranging the preliminaries. The chicken pie was brought forth in all its glory under the direct and personal supervision of Mrs. Schwab, assisted by Mrs. Coffee. There were other good things besides chicken pie. From the very beginning at 5 o'clock when the doors opened until 8, when they were supposed to close, every seat at the tables was occupied. It is estimated that about four hundred people were fed. Everyone was enthusiastic in their praise of the very splendid supper for the price. Captain Hornbeck, who is an authority on chicken pie, pronounced this one as able to pass the most rigid inspection and investigation. That it was also appreciated by others is shown in the fact that those who came late could get no chicken pie. It was a very successful supper and a happy social gathering of friends and neighbors.

Circles of Mercy Need Materials.

At the meeting of the chairmen of the Circles of Mercy held at the Y.
M. C. A. building yesterday morning,
quite a little work was accomplished.
Several members of the circles assisted the chairmen in making the oak-um pads. Further contributions of materials and money are now needed to carry on the work, and old quilts and counterpanes washed clean will be most acceptable as there is an urgent appeal for all kinds of pads.
More old linen and muslin is also needed. Any possible contributions of either material or money should be left at the Y. M. C. A. building as early as possible on Thursday morning of next week.

Piano For Senate House.

E. Winter's Sons, the John street music dealers, have made a donation to the Senate House which is much valued and appreciated. It is a piano at least 75 years old which is reported in good order by the acting custodian, Irving P. Winne. It is a grand piano finished in rosewood and all of the frame on the inside is of wood, instead of steel such as figures in the modern instruments. The piano was delivered today, a gift to the state.

Charles Merrill Injured.

Charles Merrill, a salesman in the Hoffman cigar store on John street, was sitting on a chair in the rear of the store about 1 o'clock this afternoon when the chair went out from under him and he was precipitated to the floor. He sustained a severe gash on the back of the head and he also was injured on the arm. For a few moments Mr. Merrill was partially unconscious. The injuries are not serious.

Old Guard is Growing.

A number of new members were enrolled in the Old Guard Association of Ulster county at the smoker held on Thursday evening in the armory. A business session was held first at which time the new constitution and by-laws were adopted.
It was announced that the various committees will be appointed later to carry on the work of the organization. A smoker and entertainment followed. There were about seventy-five members present at the smoker.

Grand Jury Stenographer.

William P. Glass has been appointed grand jury stenographer by District Attorney Cunningham in place of MacDonald Van Wagener and will take up such duties when the next grand jury convenes at the opening of the December term of the supreme court. Mr. Glass has been stenographer in the district attorney's office for several years and some time ago received his certificate from the state as a certified shorthand reporter. The position being of a confidential character is placed by the state civil service rules in the exempt class.

A Newsboy Scrap.

This morning a downtown newsboy appeared before Recorder Lang and complained that another newsboy was abusing him because he had ceased buying papers from him and was getting his stock from a newsdealer. Probation Officer Weidemann later saw the boy complained of and notified him that if he did not leave the other boy alone
he would be arrested and punished.

Navigation Notes.

Towing still continues quite heavy on the river for this time of year and the Cornell tug Cordis is bound up and the tug Baker down the river, both with heavy tows.

One of the large rock diggers used in the river near Troy was brought down in the tow and taken to Hiltbrand's boatyard today for repairs.

Ice men Getting Ready.

The ice men along the Hudson river are getting in readiness for the winter season and the ice houses are being overhauled and placed in shape to store ice in later on. It is not expected that very large quantities of last season's crop will be left on hand in the houses.

To Tell of Panama Trip.

Following an oyster supper to be served by the men of the Plattekill Methodist Episcopal Church on Friday evening, November 19, Miss Thillie Nabor will give a talk descriptive of a recent visit to the Panama canal.

Hits His Head on a Joist.

While in the pit of a garage in New Paltz fixing the car of William Thompson the other day, Nelson Winchell became dizzy and fell back, striking his head on a joist. He was unconscious for almost four hours.

Fight for a Cause.

The courage to die for a cause cannot be bought for money. The morale that leads soldiers unflinchingly to face death comes only from the belief that the cause for which they fight is greater than the individual life of any man.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Nov. 12.—Some folks claim that it's the players alone who make a football team great; others claim it's the coach.

Well, Michigan had Yost back in 1903 and 1904 and 1905—and it still has Yost. It had Heston, Reddon, Snow and several others back in those "point a minute" days—but they are gone. Michigan was great in those days. It's not great now.

Harvard had Brickley, Pennock, Bradley and Hardwick in 1913 and 1914—and also it had Perry Haughton as coach. Those 1913 and 1914 machines loomed to the crest of the football world. Harvard in this year A. D. 1915 still has Monsieur Haughton, but Brickley, Hardwick, Bradley and Pennock are gone. And Harvard isn't the "champion."

On the other mitt, we call your attention to Washington & Jefferson college last year. It had Spiegel, Crutshank, Patterson, Fleming and Young. Also it had Bob Folwell as coach. The W & J team in 1914 was a wonder. The 1915 team retains none of the 1914 stars—but it retains Folwell. And W & J this year seems to be just as powerful as it was last year.

What's the answer?

A Golfing Yarn.

A. W. Tillinghast, the golf humorist, is responsible for this one:

"It was on the first teeing ground, and the lady swung on the ball and caught it on the very nose of her driver. Unfortunately, it came in sharp contact with the skin of her lord and master, who had been standing quietly by her side.

"Convulsively clapping the wounded member, the gentleman fell to the ground, giving vent to some exceedingly lurid language. No word of apology or sympathy fell from the lips of the lady, but with a look of disgust she merely observed:

"Now Ernest, there's not the slightest use of making so much fuss about it, for you know perfectly well, that I am off my game."

Jake Danbert has decided that he doesn't want to hold public office. Jake, however, didn't make up his own mind—the Brooklyn voters did it for him. That's where Jake plays ball and that's where he lives. The Democrats in his district nominated him for alderman but when the votes for his district were counted on election night, it was found that Jake was several thousand shy.

"Get your eggs" headlines the Kansas City Post, and then it goes on to tell about Pitcher Jim Scott and Shortstop Buck Weaver of the White Sox, entering into vaudeville. Wonder if that K. C. chap saw the pair in their preliminary workouts?

Concerning Patrick Moran.

Pat Moran is rather bashful about signing up for 1916. Why shouldn't he be? He got only about $5,000 last year—and he made at least $100,000 more for the club than Charlie Dooin did in 1914. He made more for the Phillies owners in 1915 than Fred Clarke did for Barney Dreyfuss; more than George Stallings did for Jim Gaffney; more than John McGraw, Roger Bresnahan and Wilbert Robinson made for their owners. And all those managers drew from $3,000 to $15,000 more for the 1915 season's work than did Moran.

Pat has a right to be coy—and a right to a doubling of his 1915 salary at least. He's earned it.

Thursday Night's Results.

Paterson, 14, Jersey City, 12.

Kingston will be without the service of Brother Ed Wachter in the game against Stamford tonight. This being one of the three games Wachter will not play with the Kingston team on the local court. Manager Morgenweck has signed the aggressive "Tubby" Lamb to fill the position which Wachter plays. While Lamb is a good basketball player, he can not play the game Wachter has shown the local fans, as a member of the Kingston quintet. Lamb has played on former Kingston teams and no doubt, he will be able to work with the team to advantage.

Manager Morgenweck of the local team would do well if he had all his men on the court at 8:30 o'clock tonight so the basketball game could be started promptly at 8:45 o'clock. Many fans are in attendance at the game before 8:30 o'clock, the time the game is advertised to start, and they do not wish to wait until any time between 9:15 and 9:20 o'clock before the game is staged. The games already played here this season have both been late in getting underway. "Start the game as advertised, or change the time."

The New York State League.

The managers of the New York State Basketball League will have a meeting at Schenectady Sunday afternoon to complete arrangements for the opening of the season, which will take place next week. The leaders of the different teams are optimistic over the prospects of success for the new league, as there has been a revival of interest throughout the circuit, due to the fact that so many new faces will be seen on the different teams. In Hudson, where the game has been dead for the last three years, Trim McKinstry, formerly of the Cohoes team, has gathered together a good team, and the prospects are that the "fans" will support the game as they did in the days of the old Hudson River League.

Hyphens Lose Muller.

Jack Noll's team will probably be called the Hyphens, and they are entitled to the name, for they represent Herkimer, Ulster, Mohawk and Franklin. The team has been going along in good shape, but will miss the services of Chief Muller, who has accepted a position with the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey. The team will consist of Muller, Shelly and Johnson, forwards; Sullivan of Mohawk, center; Noll and List, guards. Howe of Herkimer and Phelps of last year's Rome team are also trying for places.

Basketball in Brooklyn.

Basketball fans of Greater New York will have their first opportunity to see a professional league game tonight, when the Brooklyn team of the Inter-State Basketball League opens its home season at St. Anthony Hall, Greenpoint, with the Crescents of Paterson as opponents. When these teams clashed at Paterson a week ago the result was in doubt until the last half minute of play, when the Jerseyites came from behind and scored a victory by a margin of one point.

Paterson's Defeats Skeeters.

Manager Downey's Crescents defeated the Jersey City five in an Inter-State League game on the "Skeeters" court Thursday night by a score of 14 to 12, in one of the most exciting games played in New Jersey. "Chief" Muller, who jumped the New York State League, was the star of the game, scoring two fields and a foul for his team. Swenson, at guard for the Silk City quintet, played one of his usual fast games, getting with a field basket and six foul goals. The score:
